

"Walking a Mile in a Pair of Shoes"

Who we are, is influenced by our experiences (culture, gender, religion and personal identity).

Tell us a story about walking in a pair of shoes (your own or imagined).

Where did they take you or where would you want them to take you?

What did you see or learn through your experience?

maximum 500 words

Answer the question in the space below. You may attach a drawing (max size 5" x 7") of the shoes if you choose. There is no right answer, we are looking for your ideas. This exercise is intended to assess your critical thinking skills and your writing skills. Students are expected to answer in their own words – use of the internet is not permitted. Provide a word count at the end of your statement. You should staple your rough notes to the back of the second page.
